Contract Let For Sequoia's New Library

Trustees Also Decide
To Take $5000 Offer
On Highway Land

Construction of a new library and classroom addition at Sequoia High School in Redwood City will start Monday, it was announced here as the result of the awarding of a contract for the work by the school trustees in special session Tuesday night.

At the same time, the trustees tentatively agreed, subject to a public hearing, to accept $5000 from the state for a 27-foot strip of the school property along El Camino Real where the highway is to be widened.

Contract for the library addition was awarded to James B. Allen of San Carlos on his bid of $21,621—lowest of five made to the board last Friday night when they were taken under consideration.

The project will enlarge the library, now 24x60 feet and designed to accommodate some 600 pupils, to 32x88 feet and suitable for use by the school's present 1800 enrollment, according to Principal A. C. Argo. Instead of maintaining the present high ceiling in the library, a more modern low ceiling will be installed, leaving room above the library for two classrooms.

COMPLETED IN SEPTEMBER
Although the project will not be finished for the school opening Sept. 5, it will be completed by the latter part of that month, it is expected. Funds for the project

ROAD WORK AUTHORIZED
ATHERTON, July 26—Atherton town council, caught in a mid-Summer lull, transacted only one item of business at its meeting yesterday afternoon. It approved a resolution of contract with the state division of highways calling for expenditure of $650 for streets of major importance which are maintained in Atherton.

Lurie, Wealthy Promoter, One Of Defendants

Action Supplants One
Brought in R. C.
For $250,000

In a sequel to the sensational LeBerthon criminal libel trial in San Mateo County Superior Court, Dr. J. C. McGovern, South San Francisco dentist and former county coroner, is suing for $350,000 damages in San Francisco in a complaint on file there today.

Defendants are John L. LeBerthon, editor of the San Francisco News Letter & Wasp, Josephine LeBerthon, the Wasp-News Letter Publishing Co. and Louis Lurie, San Francisco and Atherton millionaire.

Grounds for the action are virtually the same as those in the 1938 grand jury indictment which resulted in LeBerthon's conviction by a jury Mar. 30, 1939. LeBerthon was sentenced to serve five days in jail and fined $500. The grand jury indictment cited three counts against the San Francisco editor for libeling Dr. McGovern in his campaign last fall to the office of coroner and public administrator.

SUPPLANTS LOCAL SUIT

The new action, a sequel to the criminal prosecution, supplants a $250,000 libel action filed in San Mateo County Superior Court by Dr. McGovern Aug. 26. On the same day Ernest A. Rollson, former county executive, filed a $200,000 action against LeBerthon. Both suits were transferred to San Francisco, and it was understood that Dr. McGovern's original action would be dismissed.

Significant difference in the $350,000 action is the addition of Lurie's name to the list of defendants. Attorney for Dr. McGovern is John Francis Neylan of Woodside and San Francisco, who himself filed suit against LeBerthon and Lurie Apr. 5, 1939, seeking $200,000 damages for an article published in the Wasp last Summer.

According to the new complaint, Lurie "made certain large money advances and loans" to the Wasp-News Letter Publishing Co. and to LeBerthon, none of which has been repaid. The loans, the complaint says, were made to enable the publication to continue from week to week.

'CONTROLS' WEEKLY PAPER
Because of the loans, Lurie obtained financial control of the publishing company and the publication "and has been and is now in a position to dominate, dictate, and control the editorial and business policies" of the weekly paper, and has dominated and controlled them since the initial advances, says the complaint.

"Lurie has taken and does now take an active and continuous interest" in the publication, the document states.

It cites articles published Aug. 5, 12, 19 and 26, 1938, asking $50,000 compensatory damages for each, plus $100,000 punitive damages.

40 & 8 To Join Convention Parade

San Mateo County Volture 393, Forty & Eight society, will participate in the organization's parade in Oakland Aug. 12 which will begin the state convention of the society and the American Legion.

Such was the decision reached Tuesday night when members met in Burlingame Legion Hall. Serving on the parade committee are George Mann, Larry G. Reilly, C. H. Whitney, Daniel L. Dineen, Grover McCoy, Harry C. Welch, A. J. K. Jacobsen, R. L. Mann and Joseph J. Madden.

The drum and bugle corps of the 26th district will be asked to join with the society on that night.

Larry G. Reilly of Daly City was elected as a delegate and T. Louis Chess of San Mateo as alternate to represent this county in the national promenade to be held in Chicago in September. Dr. John N. Blood of Redwood City was elected to serve the society during the forthcoming year as Medicin.

The average age of passenger cars in use in the United States is estimated at 4 1/2 years.

TRIUMVIRATE OF STARS IN FILM

Tyrone Power and Alice Faye, the romantic stars of "Alexander's Ragtime Band," are joined by Al Jolson, the star who sings back the past everyone wants to remember, in "Rose of Washington Square," 20th Century-Fox's forthcoming entertainment highlight. The film will open Tuesday at the Redwood Theater.

'Get in Shape,' City Is Warned

H. W. Squires, manager of the Industrial Department of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, declared that there are two immediate prospects on a list of 40 for industrial sites on the Peninsula, but warned that Redwood City must "get itself in shape" before it can hope to sell any of its waterfront area to manufacturers.

"There is no land for sale on the south side of the channel," Squires claimed. "The available area is offered by the city for lease only. The large areas on the north side of the channel cannot be reached by road or spur track. Until there are industrial areas available, Redwood City has nothing to sell."

Squires confirmed reports that a large national chemical products firm is seeking a Pacific Coast location and may decide between Redwood City and Contra Costa County within 90 days.

"We are handling this proposition confidentially," Squires said, "and we are not at liberty to give any information. Even the company's Pacific Coast representative does not know of the contemplated move. I may say that there is not another factory like it on the Pacific Coast. It is an excellent set-up."

The plant requires deep water because raw materials must be shipped in by ocean-going vessels, Squires explained.

The board of supervisors yesterday voted $300 to survey routes for possible road and spur track facilities to Fair Island, Standard Dredging Co. property north of the harbor channel. It is still possible, Squires said, to bring the chemical plant to the Peninsula.

The second industrial prospect wants 10 acres of land, Squires said.

San Francisco Peninsula, Inc. was the first to sponsor the Fair Island road survey.

Legion Post Roster Now Numbers 210

Fifteen new members were added to the roster of American Legion Post 105 at the regular meeting Monday night in the Veterans Building, bringing the total membership to 210 for the current year. After a brief business session, the meeting adjourned to enable a delegation to attend the installation of Belmont Post of there is not another factory like it on the Pacific Coast. It is an

R. C. Youth Indicted By U. S. Grand Jury

The Federal Grand Jury in San Francisco has indicted Tony M. Silva of Dumbarton Oaks, Redwood City, on a charge of theft and forgery of a postal money order at Redwood City last June 24.

The $12 money order was one which had originally been purchased by the young man's father, Tony F. Silva, and sent to an insurance company in Hawaii in payment of a premium. When the money order was returned because the premium was overdue, the son allegedly obtained it and cashed it at the local post office, later telling his father that it apparently was stolen.

When a duplicate was requested, it was learned that the original had been cashed. Postal inspectors said that a confession was obtained from young Silva and that he had been making restitution.

Eagles To Hear Of Whaling Operations

Arthur Payne, Redwood City contractor who once engaged in whaling operations, will describe his former occupation to members of Redwood City Aerie 418, Fraternal Order of Eagles, Friday night in Odd Fellows Hall, Edward I. McAuliffe, chairman of the lodge's program committee, announced.

Payne will speak at 8:30 o'clock. A short business meeting is scheduled for 8 o'clock, McAuliffe said. Other members of the program committee are Richard O. Bell and Harry D. Bourquin.

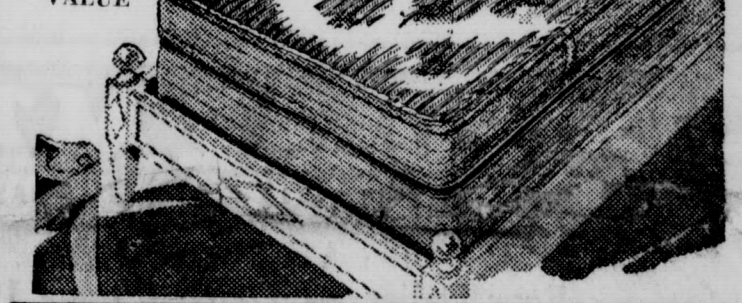

Included in the ceremonies attendant upon the visit of State Pres. Roy L. Driggers to the Redwood City aerie last Friday was the presentation by Driggers to U. L. Laurence, retiring president, of the past president's certificate.

Veto To Result In Tax Increase For Peninsula

3½-Cent Levy Is Held Necessary To Supply Pension Funds

Governor Olson's veto of the $6,700,000 bill to assist counties in carrying the old age pension law for the current year will increase San Mateo County's 1939-40 tax levy by about 3½ cents, according to the San Mateo County Department of Social Welfare.

Of the $6,700,000, approximately $42,000 would have come from San Mateo County, and the budget request of the department was figured on that basis. Supervisor H. H. Smith, chairman of the board of supervisors, disclosed that the upward revision would delay completion of the budget until sometime late next month. The board studied the budget yesterday afternoon, but will have to revise preliminary figures in view of the governor's action, he said.

Governor Olson pleaded inadequate state finances to assume a greater share of the pension burden.

Smith disclosed there was little probability of adding a new tax rate this year to repay funds borrowed by the county from the state in 1933-34 to relieve the road department. Repayment is now being made from gas tax income, and County Engineer M. A. Grant declared yesterday that his department would be forced to close down for a portion of the year if the deductions, amounting to approximately $42,000 each January, continue.

Smith said he doubted that the road department would shut down over a matter of $42,000. He admitted that the board of supervisors had the power to levy a general tax to repay the relief loans, but said the supervisors would rather submit the issue to the people at the special Nov. 7 election.

"We would rather be guided by the wishes of the people," he said. While admitting that such guidance

Completion of 'Palace' Seen

Early start on completion work of the livestock pavilion or "Cow Palace" in Visitation Valley was predicted today after Governor Olson signed a bill permitting transfer of live stock equipment and exhibits from Treasure Island to Agricultural District 1-A.

With a $130,000 state allocation already made, plus a $50,000 appropriation expected to be forthcoming soon from San Francisco, the district will sponsor a $1,138,949 WPA job which has already received the President's approval.

An expenditure of $250,000 or $300,000 would have been encountered had the bill not been signed by the governor. The bill applies to exhibits and property owned by the California Commission for the Exposition and includes horse and cattle barns, seating and other facilities.

According to Fred Parr, president of District 1-A, the WPA project will be carried through despite recent amendments, because it was approved by the President before the amendments were made.

Parr said that foundations for two horse stall units, and one two-story cattle barn are laid and much material is on the ground.

County To Grade Food Establishments
Food establishments, like milk, will be "graded" by the county health department on a point basis, and no establishment lower than 80 per cent perfect will be allowed to continue to operate, according to Sanitary Inspector John Fickelsen. "Grade A" establishments will be those which score between 90 and 100 per cent and employ food handlers who have annual county health department certificates.

Smith said he doubted that the road department would shut down over a matter of $42,000. He admitted that the board of supervisors had the power to levy a general tax to repay the relief loans, but said the supervisors would rather submit the issue to the people at the special Nov. 7 election.

Water District Budget $9000

Returned for the board of supervisors' consideration today was the Belmont County Water District budget for $9000, accompanied by an itemized report of last year's expenditures and for contemplated costs of operation this fiscal year.

Three weeks ago the board ordered the request returned to the district board for an itemized account. Col. Charles N. Kirkbride, attorney for the district, addressed the new communication to the board with the request that it be adopted without change, particularly because the contingency fund asked amounts only to $200.

Last year the district spent $8026.31, leaving a surplus of $129.18 from the $8155.49 received in taxes from the county. Included in this year's request are items of $4882 for principle retirement, $1200 for cost of new services and $3000 for plant additions. An operating profit of $282 is expected, compared to $262.56 profit last year.

Relief Taxes, Pay Increases May Be Put Up

Crisis in Road Bureau Brings Consideration Of Extra Levy

The board of supervisors Tuesday discussed proposals to submit two issues to the people at the special "Ham and Eggs" pension election Nov. 7:

1. A proposition to levy a special tax to repay relief loans to the state. Repayment is now being made by deductions from county gasoline tax income, and County Engineer M. A. Grant warned that if deductions continue, the county may as well "close up the road department" for a portion of the year.

2. Any requests from elective officials for salary increases. Supervisor H. H. Smith declared the board had been placed in a "tough situation" because it did not grant the increases requested last year by certain office holders, and proposed that officials concerned be invited to take their requests to the people.

The board took no definite action on either proposal, although Chairman Smith invited any dissatisfied elective officials to come forward with their requests. He explained that he proposed to submit any requested increases in the form of charter amendments raising the specified minimum salaries. Smith hinted that the board was experiencing a "lack of co-operation" from some of the county's official family.

Fireman Bruised Fighting Blaze At R. C. Store

One fireman was slightly injured and $200 damage occurred to the Main Corner Store, 1042 Main St., at Maple St., Redwood City, when fire broke out in the building at 5:07 p.m. Tuesday.

The fire started at the base of the building near the front, from an unknown source. Chief Mark E. Ryan said it might have been caused by a cigarette stub or a discarded match. A signboard next to the store also was damaged.

Alan (Bud) McKay, city humane officer and a "call man" for the department, incurred a bruise on his arm when struck by a piece of lumber. Treatment was not necessary.

Marchbanks Are Sued By Lawyer for Fees

J. W. Marchbank Tanforan race track proprietor, and Ella P. Marchbank, his wife, were named defendants in a $2500 civil suit in superior court at Redwood City Monday. Plaintiff is Atty Frank I. Summer Fashions for Stewardesses

Margaret Nesmith, pretty United Air Lines stewardess, salutes summer in her new, cool, white, summer uniform dress. The United stewardesses voted on the type of summer uniform they preferred and the girls were practically unanimous in declaring they thought dresses would be more feminine than the regulation style uniform of suit skirt, blouse and jacket. Miss Nesmith's cool and summery appearance in the picture indicates the stewardesses had the right idea.

Fuel Barged To Oil Depot

Shipments of gasoline by barge to the new Standard Oil Co. depot at the Port of Redwood City began Monday.

Although the initial load of fuel was sent to the station by tanker last Wednesday, arrival of Standard Oil Barge 11 at 6 o'clock that morning marked the beginning of regular shipments to the new depot. The barge carried 6804 barrels of gasoline, brought here from the firm's refinery at Richmond.

Port Manager Walter F. Murphy said that while inquiries about sites for similar plants had been made by other oil companies, no negotiations had yet been completed for establishment of depots similar to that of the Standard Oil Co.

County Moves To Win Plant

The board of supervisors Tuesday gave its support to the efforts of San Francisco Peninsula Inc. to bring a major industry to Bair Island at the Port of Redwood City by appropriating $300 to enable the county engineer to make a survey of a proposed road to the property.

Request for the survey was voiced by Fred Drake of San Carlos, member of a newly-appointed San Mateo County Industrial Commission, who declared that it was essential to the future of the county to make its industrial acreage available for development.

While the name of the proposed industry was not disclosed, Dan St. George of Belmont, member of the industrial commission and the special SFPI committee handling the project, said it would employ between 300 and 400 people, and would cost between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000 to construct.

He said he understood it to be a chemical manufacturing concern which has plants in other parts of the country and now seeks a Pacific Coast production unit. Contra Costa County is the major competitor of the Peninsula, he said, the firm requiring 27 feet of water for ocean-going vessels.

Drake declared the fact that six sections of land near the Redwood City port were lying idle while major industries sought suitable locations. He pointed out it would be necessary to secure permission of the federal government to close either or both of the navigable sloughs which isolate Bair Island from the mainland.

With Drake and St. George were Sam H. Winklebleck and John W. Rutherford, members of the SFPI committee.

"We need heavy industry in San Mateo County to offset taxes on small homes," declared Supervisor

John A. Lynch. "We should prepare this survey right away even if we miss this industry."

Executive Frederick Peterson urged quick action. Engineer Grant requested the special appropriation because all of the proposed right-of-way is on private property. The land is owned by Standard Dredging Co., Hearst Estate, Grant Co., Ross Estate Co., Henshaw Co. and George A. Kneese.

Drake said he believed the expense of constructing the road

TRAFFIC JITTERBUG

This "Screwdriver" put on several jam sessions in local traffic before a reporter for this paper persuaded him to stop long enough for an interview which disclosed that he appeared here as part of Shell's nationwide "Share-the-Road" crusade. The goofy motorist gave a heart-rending display of what bad driving manners can do to tie up traffic and create accident hazards.

SCREWDY SCREWDRIIVER SHOWS HOW NOT TO DRIVE MACHINE

Traffic was sprained all out of alignment here Wednesday when a "Screwdriver" ran amuck for an hour or so in the downtown district.

At the height of the congestion the daffy motorist was cornered by a reporter for this paper who inquired into the reasoning behind such crazy capers. Upon learning that the wheeled jitterbug is seldom hampered by reason, the reporter took this line of questioning:

"Oh, no," replied the ordinance buster. "I even it up by often turning left from the right lane."

"Well, did you ever stop and think—?"

"Neither." But I notice you always park double, diagonal, or generally diabolical."

"Only when I can't leave the car standing at oblique, on the bias, or in italics," grinned the Screwdriver, his ears flapping gaily in the breeze.

The reporter took one more shot at him. "Don't you believe in sharing the road?"

"Sure. I stay in the middle—anybody can have the rest!"

At this moment the reporter was accosted by the local manager for Shell, A. R. Boyer. He explained that the "Screwdriver" was giving a demonstration of bad manners as part of Shell's national crusade to reduce traffic congestion and increase safety.

"Screwdriver is the new name given discourteous motorists," said Boyer. "Shell hopes through its Share-the-Road Club to help you and other motorists to laugh Screwdrivers off the streets. Already, Share-the-Road emblems are on 12 out of every 100 automobiles throughout the West. Each car owner with the little gold emblem on the rear license plate has pledged to observe traffic courtesies and thus help reduce congestion."

"So you see, the funny looking fellow who has been pulling boners here today was just part of a nationwide campaign to show how annoying thoughtless, selfish driving can be."

Local motorists who want to aid the "Share-the-Road" movement were invited by the Shell manager to drop into any Shell dealer's station and get the handsome club emblem, made of metal, with maritime flags embossed in color. These flags mean "Am giving way" in sea language, or "I will share the road" in everyday talk. The emblem is free to all motorists.

Youth, 19, Is Jailed As Drunk After Crash

A 19-year-old San Francisco messenger boy was jailed early Sunday on charges of being drunk on a public highway after his automobile hit a parked car on a dangerous portion of Ocean Shore Hwy., according to the State Highway Patrol.

Arrested was Donald Powell, who was freed at 12:15 p.m. yesterday on $10 bail.

State Patrolman Lloyd Minehan reported the youth was driving in a heavy fog on the shoulder of the highway perilously near a 60-foot cliff when he struck a machine owned by Richard Tomlin, 21, San Francisco. None was hurt.

$8500 Salary For Judgeships

San Mateo County's two superior judgeships, now held by Maxwell McNutt and A. R. Cotton, will pay $8500 a year after July 1, 1941, as the result of a measure signed by Governor Olson. The positions now pay $6000 annually.

The bills were squeezed through an "economy" legislature because the increases were postponed for two years. Among increases were raises from $9000 to $10,000 for the 50 judges of the Los Angeles County Superior Court.

Local Dog Winner At San Mateo Show

Once again "Lime Jai Sa," three-year-old Pekinese champion owned by Jean Koempel of 429 Howland St., Redwood City, was victorious in competition with some of the nation's finest Pekes, as he came off with first honors in the limit class, "any other color," eight pounds and over, at the San Mateo Kennel Club's one-day outdoor show at Bay Meadows Sunday.

The fawn-colored dog, son of Champion Yenny of Ashcraft, famous English importation and also owned by the Koempel kennel, was awarded in addition to the trophy for his first place the rare gold-and-enamel emblem given by the Pacific Coast Pekinese Kennel Club of Hollywood.

"Lime Jai Sa," or "Little Boy Blue" as he is known in English, is one of two dogs regularly exhibited by Miss Koempel, the other being Champion Yenny of Ashcraft. Three other dogs she owns are boarded at different kennels in this vicinity.

The limit class, in which "Little Boy Blue" won, is one of five established classes for dogs of different ages and qualities. There also are contained in the Pekinese division of the limit class the segregations of "under eight

Hundreds Hear Local Program

Elated with the cordial reception given its first Summer concert, presented Sunday afternoon at Native Daughters Park, the Redwood City Municipal Band announced plans today through its director, Bernard W. McCann, to present another concert in the near future, probably on Aug. 6.

Several hundred persons gathered at the part to hear the concert Sunday, which featured a variety of numbers including solos, marches, waltzes, and overtures presented by the 25 musicians who participated.

Director McCann said that more musicians would be welcomed into the band, which practices each Wednesday evening. Anyone interested should contact him at Newman Brothers' store at Woodside (telephone Woodside 511).
